Individuals in dire need of money help looking for a short term advance that will provide the cash they need to meet an immediate cash flow problem. Funds are deposited directly into their checking accounts. These consumers will end up paying back around .25 cents on the dollar in addition to the amount borrowed. They would be more than willing to take any other offer without such a stiff penalty at the end. We collect the customers' income, length of employment, job type, age, and more.
